NGO ACCOUNTANTS NETWORK

Background

NGOs deal with public funds and work for the development of the society. Hence they are accountable, not only to its donors, but also to the society at large. The accountability dimension of the NGO sector has been gaining more prominence in the recent years.

One of the significant tools of establishing accountability is the financial statements produced by the NGOs. The books and accounts maintained by the accountants and the reports generated helps in promoting greater accountability and transparency not only within the organization but also among its various stakeholders. Thus, NGO Accountants play a very important role in the chain of accountability of the development sector. In this context, we also find that the quantum of resources dealt by the NGOs also vary distinctly from one another. Similarly, NGO accountants face challenges in accounting practices that makes it difficult to find solutions within the general accounting conventions and other statutory requirements.

Objective:

NGO Accountants' Network (NAN) is, therefore, formed with the following objectives :

- ◆ To build a pool of expertise
- ◆ To sensitise on the field realities
- ◆ To enable mutual learning
- ◆ To capacitate NGO Accountants on new methodologies in Financial Management.

NAN is also formed so that through regular interaction with the members of the forum, discussion groups, workshops and capacitation of finance consultants, the expertise of this forum could be enhanced.
